To Whom It May Concern:

I highly recommend real estate broker Sonia Amin, who represented me in the recent sale of a trust income property in Inglewood. Sonia is an extremely diligent and experienced agent. Throughout the entire process Sonia was professional, conscientious, and motivated and I always felt as though I was her only client.

Sonia went above and beyond to ensure that the sale went as smoothly as possible; she made what could potentially have been a truly frustrating experience into a painless sale. Whenever a problem presented itself, she was ready with a solution. Her perseverance was invaluable to the success of the sale and I never once felt stressed during the process.

I will definitely be using Sonia's services again in the future with other trust properties in need of sale and would highly recommend others do the same. You would be well served with Sonia looking after your interests.

Sincerely,

Robert Schnieders
